PHOENIX 2

Launched in 2010 and refitted in 2019, PHOENIX 2's standout features – of which there are many – include a plush cinema room, a cinema under the stars, three pools and an incredible inside/outside dining area with sliding glass screens.

On the main deck, the décor shows little restraint, with gold tones and red furnishings adding a glamorous ambience. There is a vast main salon, which includes a piano room with a Steinway grand piano, and a separate dining area for lavish meals.

PHOENIX 2 can accommodate a total of 12 guests across seven cabins, including an outstanding split-level master apartment, accessed by its own staircase, which offers undisturbed views out to sea, and a private terrace with Jacuzzi for some much-needed time out.

A further six guest cabins are split across three decks, all of which are connected by a central elevator. A full beam VIP suite on the lower deck can be converted into two separate double cabins, while on the main deck, two further cabins can be found aft of the master cabin. These cabins can also be turned into a family suite. The remaining two VIP cabins can be found on the upper deck and feature spectacular terraces.

Up in the sky lounge, large circular sofas beckon, and who will be able to resist a cocktail at the sit-up bar? Here, another dining space connects seamlessly to the aft deck lounge thanks to fully retracting glass doors.

Outdoors, on the sun deck, there is a huge oval pool fanned by sunpads with an additional Jacuzzi tub forward and a lounge area aft. On the bridge deck, a gym, sauna, and treatment rooms are ideal for wellness charters, with the helipad even doubling as a yoga or workout space.
